Here's a basic guide to rug maintenance for beginners:

Vacuuming

Vacuuming is one of the most important things you can do to maintain your rugs. It helps to remove dirt, dust, and other debris that can accumulate over time. Vacuum your rugs at least once a week, or more often if they're in a high-traffic area.

Brushing

Brushing is another great way to remove dirt and debris from your rugs. It's also a good way to fluff up the fibers and make your rugs look their best. Brush your rugs at least once a week, or more often if they're in a high-traffic area.

Deep cleaning

Deep cleaning is a more thorough way to clean your rugs. It's important to deep clean your rugs at least once a year, or more often if they're in a high-traffic area. You can deep clean your rugs yourself using a carpet cleaner, or you can hire a professional carpet cleaner to do it for you.

Storage

If you're not going to be using your rugs for a while, it's important to store them properly. Here are a few tips for storing rugs:

- Roll up your rugs and store them in a cool, dry place.
- Don't fold your rugs, as this can damage the fibers.

- If you're storing your rugs for a long period of time, it's a good idea to wrap them in plastic wrap or a rug bag.

By following these simple tips, you can keep your rugs looking their best for years to come. So what are you waiting for? Start maintaining your rugs today!
