Synopsis

In the small town of Willow Creek, England, three women are about to have their lives changed forever by the outbreak of World War II.

Grace is a young woman who has always dreamed of becoming a nurse. When war breaks out, she seizes the opportunity to volunteer for the Red Cross. But as she witnesses the horrors of war firsthand, she begins to question her faith in humanity.

Mabel is a middle-aged widow who has lost everything in the war. Her husband and son were both killed in action, and her home was destroyed in a bombing raid. Now, she is alone and afraid, but she refuses to give up hope.

Lily is a young girl who is growing up in the shadow of war. She has never known a world without conflict, and she is terrified of what the future holds. But even in the darkest of times, Lily finds hope and joy in the people around her.

As the war rages on, these three women will form an unbreakable bond of friendship. They will laugh together, cry together, and support each other through the darkest of times. And together, they will find the strength to carry on.
